You tell one child an object such as a truck, flower or teddy bear quietly. You then give the other children a clue as to what sort of object it is, for example an animal, vehicle or toy. The children then have to ask the child questions to try to guess what the object is. If they answer correctly within 20 questions they have won the game.

Tip:

Older children can start the game by guessing what type of object it is. They can also only ask questions that have a “yes” or “no” answer.
