

FAIRY PODS

What you need: Pink shapes cut from cardboard in the shape of flower pods or toadstools

Music requirements: Yes

Age suitability: 3+

Another version of musical chairs.

You place a number of flower pods or toadstools around the room and each child sits on a flower pod or toadstool. When the music starts each child moves around like they are fluttering around like fairies. You then periodically stop the music. When the music stops each child has to land onto a flower pod or toadstool. After each round you remove one flower pod or toadstool. The child who doesn't get a flower pod or toadstool has to sit out.

The last child in is the winner.

If you have boys at the party the boys can be for example elves, dwarfs or toads and the boys have to land on the toadstools and the girls have to land on the flower pods.
